OFFICERS STOP KLAN MEETING ARREST MASKER

Defendant Claims the Wind Blew Mask
Over Face.

KNIGHTS IN ROBES

Trial Henry Potter Set for Wednesday Morning—Event Creates Much Interest.

Breaking into an initiatory meeting of the Ku Klux Klan at Marcum field in the East End last night, police officers arrested Henry Potter on a charge of wearing a mask. Trial of Mr. Potter is set for Wednesday morning.

According to a spokesman of the Klan, there were about 125. Robed Klansmen at the meeting. These, he claimed, were unmasked, in accordance with the city ordinance.
The ceremonial was in progress in the center of the field around which guards were placed.

While Mr. Potter was taking the obligation the officers, Chief H. E.
Hall, Herbert Ball, W. B. White and Reese Watkins made the charge, according to witnesses. A man acting as outpost sentry stated that they drew their guns on him, while he made no resistance.

Klansmen say that the wind blew the mask down over Mr. Potter's face just before the officers made the arrest and that it was not part of the program for him to wear a mask.

The officers brought Mr. Potter to the city hall and placed him in jail, according to witnesses. He was later released on $100 bond and the mask and the robe, however, retained under lock and key by the officers.

Trial of the defendant for alleged violation of the ordinance prohibiting the wearing of masks passed here a few weeks ago was set for 10 o'clock this morning, but was postponed until Wednesday on plea that he had no attorney.

A spokesman for the Klan stated that the entire affair, so far as the Klansmen were concerned, was orderly, that all the members were unarmed. He stated that they had the field rented for the purpose of conducting ceremonies. A large number of people were at the city hall this morning, anticipating the trial of the defendant.

Effort to Popularize Remote French Isle

Associated Press.
LE HAVRE, France, Sept. 27.— An exhibition has been organized at the Havre museum to awaken interest in Kerguelen or Desolation Island, about 90 miles long, lying in the Indian Ocean half way between South Africa and Australia, which was officially taken over by France in 1893.

Rene E. Bossiere, of Havre, has made frequent visits to the island and is endeavoring to develop it economically by sheep rearing and as a hunting resort for the adventurous. Etienne Peau, curator of the Havre museum, was recently sent there on a scientific mission and returned with many interesting specimens of flora and fauna.
A French company on the island employs 200 people from October 15 to March 10, who prepare and export hides, shells, tusks, oils, etc.
Sea elephants abound in great numbers on the shores of Kerguelen, and provide wonderful sport for the hunter.

Mrs. Tate of West Frankfort —Woman Denies Giving Poison.

Associated Press.

Ruby Harrington Tate, confessed today that she was responsible for the death of her former husband, Jos. Harrington, so that she could here today from West Frankfort, at West Frankfort last night charged with the crime. Mrs.

Tate denied having given poison according to alleged confession but stated she gave former husband milk preserved peaches. That Tate

CLAIMS OFFICER TOOK HIS MONEY

Capt. Bill White Resents Charge and Will Prosecute — Outcome Boose Raid.

Jim Collingsworth, recently of Arthur, Tenn., gave an unusual turn to a raid in which officers reported they found liquor in his possession by stating that Policeman Bill White took $1,500 dollars from his trunk while the latter was searching for the whiskey.

Chief H. E. Ball states that the defendant made the charge directly to him. Mr. White resents the charge as do the other members of the force, and says that he will prosecute Mr. Collingsworth under the new slander law in force in this state.

Officers say that they searched the home of George Gray, son-in-law of Jim Collingsworth, where the latter was staying. Mr. White says that he lightly felt in the trunk in the presence of the defendant, but did not find any liquor. Under the bed there were a large number of fruit jars filled with fruits and berries. A jar in the center was nearly full of liquor.

The search took place at 3 o'- clock yesterday afternoon. At 8 o'clock last night Mr. Collingsworth made the sensational charge to the chief.

Mr. Collingsworth's trial is set for Monday morning. It is likely that the matter of alleged defamatory statements will also enter into the liquor hearing.

ROMAN RUINS IN BRITISH MUSEUM

Most Interesting Find in Fifty Years Made in Old City of Romans.

HARROGATE, Sept. 27.—Further details of the discovery near Harrogate of the 2,000-year-old Roman city of Eborac make it apparent that the city covered about 70 acres and was surrounded by a wall a mile in circumference, nine feet thick and about 20 feet high.

The find is one of the most interesting made in England for 50 years and has attracted the attention of archeologists of Great Brittain and the continent. The excavations were "excitedly recognized as the ancient Roman city by coins and other relics found. Its location is on the exact spot indicated in the sixteenth century maps of Roman Britain.

Already much of the wall has been exposed including portions of a multiangular tower. Close by were portions of a building, probably a grain warehouse, with the stone work in perfect preservation.
A Roman road 30 feet wide was discovered a short distance from the granary.

Many coins and much pottery and glassware have been found scattered over the entire city. The work will be continued until the entire city has been uncovered. It is probably that most of the relics will be presented to the British Museum.

What Tornado Did to Steel Trestle

This was a 120-foot bridge before the tornado came. But it might have been so much cardboard for all the wind cared. It was a rail road trestle on the Soo line, near Wilkes, Wis. Fifty were killed in the storm.

BELL CO. LBR. AND COAL MOVES

Officers Transferred This Week — Stek Moved to South Twentieth Street.

Beginning with a swamp which was well populated with willows, six months ago and transforming the site into a well appointed and modern lumber yard, is the transformation worked on South 20th street by E. R. Whalin and his corps of helpers of the Bell Co.
Lumber and Coal Company. The work of moving the stock from the former site will be completed within the next few days, and the offices of the company were moved during the past week. The yards have been ditched and underdrained and are being well surfaced with slag. Nearly eight hundred feet of private truckage is within the yards. The activity that lays just behind the plant allows for the placing of the Southern switch considerably higher than the different warehouses which will enable the company to install gravity conveyors at points of vantage.

The office building in the west end of the yards is 42x146 and together with the offices will give ample housing room for sash, doors, lime, plaster, wall board and other supplies, and millwork of like character. This building is two floors in front and built in the most substantial way.

Just east of the office building, is located the main lumber shed.
This shed is 60x117 and being built on the "double deck" plan will hold 1,000,000 feet of lumber and like material. A gravity conveyor will be installed in the building which will allow lumber to be moved from the car directly to the point in the shed in which it will be stored.

The rough lumber shed which lies next, has thirty-two cells and will accommodate sixty cars of lumber.
Gravity conveyors will also be installed in this shed which will allow for the piling of the lumber to a height of twenty feet in the different cells.

Following the rough timber shed is the mill shed structure 38x70.
This shed has been found inadequate and will be enlarged with two 16x10 additions. The present mill contains a Universal woodworking machine, window frame, self feed saw and other motor driven appliances. A planer and other machinery will be installed within a short time.

Next week the company will start the erection of a lumber shed for the shop lumber. This shed will be 20x100, and will be on the east end of the yards. Just south of the mill shed will be situated the brick, sand, gravel and crushed stone bins. They will be placed below the switch and will allow for easy unloading of cars.

The improvements contemplated include the erection of an all steel fence, the singeing of all the yards and later the erection of an office building on the corner just north of the present office building. Considerable property and a number of lots have been purchased in the vicinity which will allow for the expansion of the firm for several years to come.

Football Players Guests at Cumberland Banquet Tonight

All Middlesboro people who wish to encourage school athletics and more particularly those who have the interest of the Middlesboro High School football team at heart and who wish to help launch the sturdy eleven on a season of victory are invited to be present at the football booster banquet which will be held at the Cumberland Hotel tonight.

Football players will be honor-guests at the dinner and the program has been carefully arranged with a two-fold purpose: That of entertaining the boys and imparting to them encouragement for the coming grid encounters and also of creating a greater public interest in the team which represents Mid-dlesboro in every play with an outsider.

The idea of promoting a banquet in the interest of athletics and particularly football, originated with the Middlesboro Athletic Association at its organization meeting recently. The members have completed arrangements for the event at which the football aggregation will be guests of honor. Tickets for

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Walte, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce THAT the live man today has to look ahead.
THAT it pays to study conditions in every business.
THAT there is every basic sound condition to warrant optimism as to the future.
THAT the big fellows are banking on it and the little fellows are sure of it.
THAT to appreciate that fact, look at the main business streets; they are crowded and active.
THAT where there is an active volume of people, there is potential spending power. It means there is plenty of business for the getting.
THAT there is every sign of good times and a buoyant feeling among all the people, the gloom period is being dispelled.
THAT the tide has turned and business is rapidly ebbing back. Retail business is picking up rapidly with the renewal of confidence of the people. Stocks are moving, and the demand is growing. Increased buying by retailers is bringing its resultant improvement in jobbing and manufacturing lines.

PERNICIOUS PROPAGANDA in business circles should CEASE. NOW is the time that the business gossip, the TROUBLE MONGER, the fellow who has done his best to keep things down, should SHUT UP, or be LOCKED UP.

Klan Will Parade In Face of May-

Town.

Associated Press.

STUEBENVILLE, O., Sept. 27.— With disorders between Klansmen and Sons of Italy threatening at Follansbee, West Va., across the river from this city, forty special policemen were sworn in today by Mayor Diller at that place. Twenty deputy sheriffs headed by Sheriff Stephens of Brooke County, West Va., are patrolling streets of the Milltown. Klansmen whose permit to stage a street parade and demonstration was revoked last night by the mayor, informed officials today they would disregard the order and hold the parade as scheduled. They announced that they would march masked in violation of the mayor's original order.

Sons of Italy after agreeing to postpone their annual jubilee set for today, announced that they would parade if the Klan paraded.
They have decorated one section of the city with their banners. Feeling is running high and trouble is feared.

HILL TO SPEAK FOR BOND ISSUE

Local Orator to Visit Kentucky Towns in the Interest of Good Roads.

Although there is some doubt as to whether the proposed $75,000-1000 bond issue will carry in the coming election, he is said for this section, and particularly Middleboro, that every effort will be made in behalf of the non-partisan movement which can pull Kentucky out of the mud and put the educational, charitable and penal institutions on a sound basis.

The bond issue movement has an able champion in the person of T.
Russ Hill, who will next month take the stump in an aggressive campaign in favor of the issue.
He will speak at ten towns during the month and the work will keep him out of Middlesboro for the greater part of October.

Mr. Hill will speak at Mayfield, Georgetown, Springfield, Owen-son, Pikeville and five other towns in Kentucky, contributing his time and eloquence to a cause which will benefit all parts of Kentucky.

Attorney General Is Patient In Hospital

Associated Press.

ing a broken arm, the hand of which was mangled in a railroad wreck when 50 odd persons were killed at Shepherdsboro about five years ago, Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty, sits in his local hospital room, recovering from his accidental fall of a few days ago.

The attorney general today, as he does each day and will for many to come, received visits from his three assistants and the three other attaches of his office.
Business is discussed; problems thrashed out; briefs plotted and constructions and rulings made.
He may be confined for a month, attendants say.

Doctor's Skill Turns Eternal Dark to Light

The day of miracles has not pas-ed. Modern optical surgery has completely restored the sight of Mrs. Sarah Johnson, of Norton, Va., who has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J.
H. Johnson, of Middlesboro.

The patient who has passed the three-score year mark, has been totally blind for several years and had long despaired of ever regaining her vision. A local specialist took charge of her case, performed the necessary operation and her sight began to return.

Her vision was soon completely restored. She can now see better than she did for years preceding her blindness and is quite able to distinguish the most delicate colors. Mrs. Johnson has recently returned to her home at Norton.

TYPHUS RAGING IN FATED LENINGRAD

Flood Succeeded by Epidemic of Spotted Typhus—100 Cases Daily.

Associated Press.

LENINGRAD, Sept. 27.—Spotted typhus has broken out in this storm swept city, adding horrors to the flood. Over 100 cases of the diseases being registered daily by the doctors. Nurses are overwhelmed in the work of caring for the patients.

One of the most gruesome effects of the flood was the havoc wrought in the cemeteries where the newly made graves were washed out by avalanches of water, causing the bodies to float in the street. Dangers of the pestilence are very great and the authorities are taking stringent measures to check the spread of the disease.

Nearly a thousand trees were uprooted in one park. Property loss is estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars.

PREMIER URGES STATE DEFENSE

Opposes Socialist-Democrat Party In Proposed Bill for Defense.

Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, Sept. 27.—Social prosperity will come, not by preaching a holy war against capitalism, but by championing the cause of thrift, work, and confidence, the three great drive-wheels of modern machinery, says Sweden's premier, Ernst Trygger, in his keynote address just delivered in Malmo.

The premier, in opposition to the Social Democrats, urged an adequate national defense as provided for in the bill submitted to the Riksdag by the present conservative government. Strongly emphasizing this as the paramount issue in the coming elections, Mr. Tryg-ger pointed out how Sweden's prosperity and natural wealth, spelled danger in their attractions for hostile countries. "There is the greatest peril for the meek lamb grazing on the luxuriant meadows when wolves are stalking through the neighboring forests," he declared.

The present situation in the world the speaker said, although holding strong promise of improvement, does not yet justify unpreparedness and even the Dawes plan in its practical application is likely to cause serious difficulties. The Premier ended his speech with an emotional appeal, declaring that the voices of our forefathers call to us, "Forget not Sweden, the acce-tral home of liberty, justice and duty."

MALFEASANCE IS CHARGE VS. CHIEF BALL

Two Charges Filed In Frankfort Against Local Officer.

JACKSON PRESENT

Case is First to be Filed Under the New Law that Empowers the Governor to Remove.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Sept. 27.—The first suit under the new law empowering the governor to remove from office any officer guilty of malfeasance or misconduct, has been filed with Governor Fields. It was learned today. This suit seeks to remove Houston Ball, chief of police, of Middlesboro, on two charges: First, that Middlesboro police took prisoner from this city of deputy constables; second, that Middlesboro officers conspired to remove Ball, registered there as a Democrat, to change registration to republican designation.

Irvin Gibson, deputy, from whom prisoner is alleged to have been taken, is among those here today hearing at executive offices, but found the governor absent on matters relating to the bond issue.
Chief of Police Ball is a brother of Frank Ball, pardoned on a staying sentence by former Governor Morrow.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Sept. 27.—Attaches of the governor's office said today that complaint had been filed regarding Middlesboro prisoners but no recorder date set for the hearing. Irvin Gibson, deputy constable and R. L. Jackson, prisoner who recently conducted meetings in Middlesboro, arrived here this morning. Gibson stated that he arrested Bill Carmack, deserter from the United States army at Fort Thomas, Ky., as he alighted from a train in Middlesboro enroute to his home in that city.
He alleges that Bill White, Chin-Yenry, Frank Crabtree, Reese Watkins and Ashby DeBush, policemen, took Carmack away from him.

It was stated at police headquarters here this afternoon that a few days ago Chief of Police Ball received a request from Capt.
E. M. Graves, 3rd Artillery, that the police apprehend Bill Carmack, who was absent from his command without proper leave. While the police were looking for Carmack, Graves arrested him. Carmack was taken from Graves and locked up in the city jail until last evening when he was turned over to Graves who later took him to Fort Thomas.

The police state that they were holding another deserter, one Wm.
Smith, also a deserter from Fort Thomas, and the expectation was to take both of the men to the Fort at one time. It is stated that Carmack has been absent from Fort Thomas since the second of September.

American Passports Must Have Portrait

Associated Press.
BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 27.— Passport difficulties for Americans have been made a little more annoying by the new regulations of the state department providing that photographs presented for new passports must be of a certain thickness, of certain dimensions and must have a white background.
These regulations apply to pictures which are wholly made by rush photographs supplied by emergency picture galleries in the land and breadth of Europe and the American applicants for regular passports must have a photograph of the same size and dimensions as the emergency pictures.
The confusion of the passport is that have a white background of the same size and dimensions as the emergency pictures.

OPINIONS BOND ISSUE ANSWERED.

Organized opponents of the proposed $75,000 bond issue are charged with deliberately adding an item of $11,000,000 to the bond interest total cost, and with other gross falsifications, by the Greater Kentucky Committee of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, in a statement issued today.

This statement, which replies to a circular recently put by the Anti-Bond interests, shows in detail why it would be an economy for the state to issue the bonds and throws considerable light on the present financial market. It follows in part:

"The state is today in debt represented by state warrants drawing 4 percent. The bond act did not increase the debt. The conversion of these warrants into state bonds neither increases nor decreases the amount."

"Now about the interest on warrants now outstanding and on the lower rate of interest than is bond. Bonds can be carried at paid-up value. The state will not be paid for the conversion. The quotation from the Finance Commission contains an incorrect statement and, with respect to the Commission's statement, is an objection to the bond issue."

"The state would presume to fix the rate of interest on the bonds must be at par. But every time the state issues bonds in no way suffering its financial standing. The conversion of this state are sold at par and at 4.25 percent basis every day in the leading money market."

"In fact tax exempt bonds have sold in the last month as low as 3.75 percent. The consensus of opinion of financial authorities is that this country will have low interest rates for years to come. While this opinion is more or less speculative, it is sustained by the judgment of the bankers generally, and the probability is that the whole issue of bonds can be sold at the times fixed in the bond act on a 4 to 4.25 percent basis.

"If this expectation is realized the whole interest calculation in the circular is too high by about ten millions of dollars apart from the state warrants. But it is absolutely certain that the bonds to take up the state warrants will not and cannot add one penny to the interest paid by the state. The bonds cannot bear a rate higher than 5 percent—the rate paid on the warrants."

"The quotation from the Finance Commission that the state will lose $75,000 to $100,000 a year from the fact that the state can pay off the warrants at pleasure. Yet this statement is coupled in the circular with the fear that the deficits will grow to absorb the whole six millions of bonds. Here is a flat contradiction. If purchase the state has the money to pay off all warrants before the bonds are available, the bonds will not be sold. If the state has the money after enough bonds are sold to take up the warrants, the state can buy her bonds and cancel them, as there will be times when this commercial rate will temporarily stiffen from active business demand."

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Politicians used to put their ears to the ground to hear what the people were saying. Now the people put their ears to the radio and get a damned good idea what the politicians are whispering to one another.

At any rate, that's what the politicians are afraid they're doing. Under the old system, the politicians had the advantage—they knew things in advance of the people.

Under the new system isn't it possible the people will have the advantage?

This thought worries the politicians. They don't know exactly what the answer is. They can't judge from past experience, for this is the first campaign the radio has figured in, at least enough to amount to anything.

It's true the public always has had a chance to get plenty of politics through the newspapers. The public also could go to political meetings.

But the natural inference from the fact that less than half the country's eligible voters bothered to cast their ballots at the last election is that they weren't a bit interested.

Not being interested, the politicians' guess is that they didn't read what the newspapers printed about politics or attend any political meetings.

Now it's one thing to stay away from a political meeting—

It's one thing to turn from the political page of a newspaper to the pink sheet.

And it's something else again to get past a loud speaker without having something seeped into your ear that will stick there in spite of you.

Will the radio bring out the stay-at-home vote, or any considerable part of it?

If it does, considering that the stay-at-home vote last time was a little more than 50 per cent of the total eligible vote, and if it shows a decided partiality for any particular candidate—why, then the stay-at-home vote can do pretty much anything it wants to.

And the stay-at-home vote, like the radio, practically is an unknown quantity.

Taken in connection with the fact that a three-cornered fight is confusing, anyway, all this makes the situation very disturbing to the politicians.

Politicians don't mean exactly what they say when they declaim against the stay-at-home vote.

A politician is just as much in earnest as he pretends to be when he says he is for the stay-at-home vote. For usually mighty few politicians lose much sleep over opposition stay-at-home votes.

In fact, among politicians of all parties, the bigger the total stay-at-home vote is, the easier it is for the politicians to manage things and the less they have to fret about.

The last stay-at-home vote was big enough to suit the most fastidious politician's taste. But will it stay at home this time, too. If not, its very bigness makes it perfectly uncontrollable.

This isn't to say that some of the interests which are trying to get out a full vote aren't absolutely sincere. But your genuine partisan?

San?—the more people, not of his way of thinking, who stay away from the polls on election day, the safer he feels.

both being found only in the Orkneys. The latter as yet are unclassified and have no scientific name. They are plants which grow on the rocks and when covered by water open and spread out circles of leaves like dandelions, but when the tide is out they fold up and almost entirely disappear. They are not flowers, as their habits indicate a carnivorous animal existence. They kill their victims by poison and then devour them, and their leaves act as tentacles to grapple food.

WATER SHEEP ARE STUDY SCIENTISTS

Animals in Scotland Feed on Seaweed—Larger Than Normal Sheep.

Associated Press.

KIRKWALL, Scotland. — The Orkneys, which always have been a source of delight to scientists, have this summer been the playground for a party of Edinburgh zoologists who are introducing themselves and eventually the world to a number of new species of animal and fish life.

The investigators spent much time in tracing the development and learning the habits of a little known species of watersheep which is found only near the island of North Ronaldshay. These animals feed on seaweed and inhabit the beaches of the island. Nature developed for them legs from eight to ten inches longer than those of a normal sheep, which allows them to wade for food. As a result of their unusual diet their meat has a salty taste, their wool is particularly coarse and strong and they grow larger than normal sheep.

The zoologists are also studying creatures known as "Shollies" and what are called "sea-anemones."

Baptist S. S. Promotion Day Tomorrow

Annual "Promotion Day" will feature the services at the First Baptist church Sunday School tomorrow. At this time, Sunday School pupils will be promoted from present grades to higher ones.

"One thousand in Sunday School" is the slogan of the Baptists for this date and, judging from the amount of interest shown, there will be at least that number. The Baraca class has set its goal for 500 tomorrow and, as this is not an unusually large attendance for that men's christian organization, there is little doubt that this attendance figure will be reached.

In the evening, T. R. Hill will deliver an address, "Lasting Promotion."

First Presbyterian Church.

Three big services at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow will conclude the two weeks' evangelistic services which the church has been holding and which so many have found helpful and enjoyable. Dr. J. L. McKee, the evangelist, will preach at all services and Miss Mary Dan Harbison, the singer, will sing.

Dr. McKee will preach at the morning hour on "Divided by the Cross" and at the regular evening hour on "The Law of Compensation."

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a special service to which all of the people of the town will be invited. Dr. McKee will give a popular sermon lecture at this time. His subject will be "The Riddle of the Universe."

The last of the week-day meetings will be held tonight. Children of all denominations are especially invited to this service which will be at 7:30 o'clock. However, it is not strictly a children's meeting and older people are urged to come, too. The subject will be "Calvary."

CAPITAL THRILLS TO NEW MYSTERY

Crop Rumors Set Adrift by Discovery Secret Tunnel in Washington.

Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Tales of German spies, dark underground conspiracies and mysterious manipulations of a brooding gang were circulated here today with the discovery of a series of tunnels in the northwest section close to the area where most of the embassies and legations are located.

The entrance was discovered by a passing truck. The explorers stated that they discovered a tierman newspaper of 1917-18, bringing to mind immediately spe-scars of those days. The others might have been used recently as stated that the tunnel dates back to Civil War days and that liquor supply.

FUR DEALERS ARE RAISING PRICES

Large Supply Furs Does Not Operate to Make Low Prices Effective.

Associated Press.

LIPPSIC, Sept. 27. Wild fur-bearing animals throughout Europe fared fairly well during the war, according to Leipzig fur dealers, but there are no present indications that prices for women's garments in skins are to be cheaper. In fact, dealers say prices will be measurably advance.

While great tracts of forests and uncultivated lands inhabited by game were devastated or swept clear time and again by the marching armies, the animals and other areas beyond the range of guns and came through safely. The soldiers, when attacking or during a retreat, were mostly too concerned with the military maneuvers at hand, to think much of sport, and seldom had time to shoot unless it was for the purpose of killing meat for food.

On the plains of Poland and Russia, along which the German and Russian armies clashed and held positions extending at one time nearly 1,000 miles, there are enormous districts covered with timber and here game was quite safe. The bison of Poland, however, which roamed the wilds northeast of Warsaw, were nearly exterminated by German soldiers who killed them by the thousand for food.

Beautiful "Blossom Time" Coming to Manring Theater

Small is the wonder that the 3-act musical play, "Blossom Time," based upon romantic incidents in the life of the famous composer, Franz Schubert, is still the reigning sensation of European capitals, where it has played with tremendous success ever since the outbreak of the World War. Never since the early days of the triumphs of Maude Adams on the occasions of her Empire Theatre, New York City, premieres, have such wild demonstrations of approval been witnessed as the truly riotous enthusiasm with which the opening night audience received "Blossom Time" at the Ambassador Theatre, New York City, almost three years ago.

Now comes word that Messrs. Schubert will present "Blossom Time" at the Manring Theatre, one performance only, Monday evening, Oct. 6, after its remarkable triumphs in Chicago and Philadelphia, latter city where it played for thirty-two weeks and where it created a veritable furor, in addition to which it has broken all known receipts everywhere it has played.

"Blossom Time" abounds in comedy; its music is of the true, hauntingly beautiful school that has been so popular in the past, and most of the melodies were composed by Franz Schubert himself. This rare and exquisite opera has filled a long-felt want in our theatrical menu. Musically and dramatically, you will find your hours enriched by a visit to it. The splendid singing and acting company will include such well known artists as Joseph Mendelsohn, Beatrice Winslow, Arthur Henry, Marian Harrison, Robert Lee Allen, Eugenia De Soria, Edward Orchard, Marie Danter and Julia Espaly.

Z-3 CAN LIFT 40-TONS WEIGHT

Over 11,000 Gallons Gasoline Will Be Taken for Fuel on Air Voyage.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Sept. 27.—The Z-3 will start her non-stop trip to Lakehurst, New Jersey, with 11,000 gallons of gasoline tucked away inside her ribs. This will weigh at the start, approximately 28 tons. While it is estimated that the route to be followed will cover about 4,500 nautical miles, the gasoline aboard will carry the dirigible possibly 400 or 500 miles further, if necessary. Engineers figure that the five engines operating at the cruising speed of 60 to 65 miles an hour will consume about 100 gallons an hour. The voyage, it is expected, will require not more than 100 hours unless unfavorable weather should be encountered. More than 1,000 gallons of gasoline will be taken along for "good measure."

The 100 tanks containing the gasoline are located inside the great frame work of duralumin, suspended from the beams and braces on either side of the keel, walkway, or corridor which extends from the nose to the tail. Supply pipes carry the gasoline to the engines, each of which is located in a separate gondola. There are five oil tanks. The process of inflating the Z-3 with hydrogen gas for the flight required eight days.

Placed on a giant set of scales, minus the gas and gasoline, the dirigible itself, it is estimated, would weigh 39 to 40 tons and, when inflated and ready for action, has a lifting power of approximately 40 tons more.

Cincinnati Road Inspection Party Here Yesterday

Traveling de luxe in a latest model Lexington Sedan A. E. Mitterdorf and Frank Switalski, secretary and manager respectively of the Cincinnati Automobile Club, arrived in Middlesboro yesterday afternoon on an inspection tour of the Dixie "A" route. Due to the mountainous country through which they are traveling, the Lexington champion was chosen because of its Pikes Peak record. Jimmy Murphy, Cincinnati Lexington distributor, will join the party at Asheville and pilot the car home.

The Cincinnati Auto Club officers are en route from Cincinnati to Asheville, N. C., and are making a log of the road between these points, which is expected to prove of value in routing Southbound tourists this fall and winter.

"The fact that we are sparing two such busy officers from their duties shows with what importance we regard the present inspection," declared H. J. Pfister, chairman of the Auto Club's touring committee, who conceived the idea of the survey trip. "The Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit automobile clubs and touring bureaus throughout the Middle States and Northwest are looking to us for first hand information regarding road conditions in the South," continued Mr. Pfister. Most of these, he said, have for years been accustomed to routing club members and tourists via Washington, D. C., and down the Atlantic Coast line to Florida. Naturally they prefer a more direct route South if conditions are at all favorable. The mileage via the Asheville route is from 500 to 600 miles shorter and there is no comparison between the two routes when it comes to scenery.

Mr. Pfister, who enjoys the distinction of having done more transcontinental touring than any other motorist of Cincinnati, greatly regretted that business duties precluded his making the trip. He is fully alive to the importance of tourist travel and sees wonderful possibilities for all of the territory traversed by the Dixie once that great highway is permanently improved and open to all-year round way engineer.

The Cincinnati club is taking the initiative in arranging for a joint celebration of the opening of the Dixie Highway and the Atlantic Pacific Highway in Cincinnati some time during 1925.

Messrs. Mitterdorf and Switalski expect to spend a full week on the road inspection and will report the findings direct to Ernest N. Smith, general manager of the American Automobile Association upon their return to Cincinnati October 1, when Mr. Smith will be the guest of the Cincinnati organization.

"We found the road entirely passable," Mr. Switalski told a reporter of the Daily News yesterday afternoon. "We had little trouble traveling over the Corbin-Barbourville detour at night. The road from Pineville to Middlesboro is in excellent shape."

The inspection party left here for Knoxville and Asheville yesterday.

Valley Celebration Decade of Farming

By Associated Press.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 27.

The Sitka Valley is celebrating with an exhibition and fair its first decade of agriculture. In the ten years since the launching of the Alaskan railroad project by the government, sufficient land has been brought under cultivation to assume a display equal to that of many northwestern states.

Following the usual history of pioneering, the city dwellers gradually are acquiring partly developed homesteads and acreage, and a forward movement in agriculture has resulted.

For the first time in the history of Anchorage there was a sufficient supply of local strawberries this year to supply the demand for fresh and canned berries and jams. Experiments with thimble and alfalfa apparently have added a new field for the farmer.
